*** Int'l Students' Obligation of D-2 visa *****

A student who has completed their coursework (acquiring credits, etc.), but has not finished writing their thesis for graduation is called a completed-research student (수료연구(재학)).

A completed-research student can also extend their Alien Registration Card (ARC) and stay longer in Korea until he or she graduates, if granted permission. In this case, he/she must submit to the immigration office the 'Confirmation Form for Academic Advisor on Student Thesis Schedule' after receiving confirmation from a Global Service Center(GSC) staff.

In order to receive a signature from Global Service Center (GSC) on the 'Confirmation Form for Academic Advisor on Student Thesis Schedule,' students MUST bring the 'Academic Advisor Statement' as well and submit it to GSC. This form is used to verify that he/she will be extending their valid period of stay in Korea for an academic purpose. Again, the GSC staff cannot sign the 'Confirmation Form for Academic Advisor on Student Thesis Schedule' without the student's 'Academic Advisor Statement.'

All international graduate students with a student visa (D-2) should always keep in mind that they must finish their study within the * maximum valid period of student visa (D-2) permitted by the immigration office of Korea.

Also, the student visa (D-2) and Alien Registration Card (ARC) will be terminated automatically if the completed- research student does not register at KU continuously even for one semester. It is mandatory for all international students to register during the Regular Payment Period (February/August) before the semester begins.

Moreover, if the completed-research student takes leave of absence, his/her student visa (D-2) will be terminated and not be issued again even after applying to return (reinstatement) to the university, unlike for within-coursework student.

* Maximum Valid Period of Student Visa (D-2)

- Maximum period in which one can possess his/her student visa (D-2) and extend his/her ARC, set by the Immigration Office.
